JOHN DEAN TURNED UP -The New York News says John Dean, who recently kicked up a great hubbub among the aristocracy by marrying the wealthy Miss Boker, is rusticating in the pleasant little village of Franklinville, a few miles east of Riverhead. He is boarding in the family of Mr. John N. Sayer, and is being tutored and polished by the Reverend Mr. Reed, a Congregational clergyman, preparatory to his debut among the fashionables in Fifth avenue. It seems he was sent down there by his lawyer, and to avoid recognition he assumed the name of John Johnson. The manner in which his true name and character leaked out is thus stated by the News:

A few days after his arrival a letter was received by the worthy Postmaster of that village, directed to John Johnson, and as there was a young farmer living in the neighborhood by that name he took it out of the office and opened it. It proved to be from Dean's wife, and, as it was filled with such matter as a good wife knows only how to write to an absent husband, John Johnson, farmer, concluded it was not for him, as he was not the owner of such a piece of animated luxury, so he returned it to the Postoffice, and in a day or two John Johnson,

CAPT. SULLIVAN, will run as a regular packet between Louisville and Henderson, passing Evansville FRIDAY and TUESDAY afternoons.
